GLENDALE (LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE), LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1911

No. 18

CITY TRUSTEES

All members present except Mr. Anderson, resigned. The list of demands was small including a $400 bill for supplies for lighting department. The board took a recess and discussed informally the matter of vacancy on the board. Upon reassembling trustee Coker offered a resolution appointing Geo. E. Williams as trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Anderson. It was adopted by unanimous vote.

The finance committee reported satisfactory progress in auditing the city books. The question of claim of the city for taxes unpaid on property now belonging to the high school was taken up and referred to the city attorney. The city engineer presented a deed from J. S. Moore to the city conveying Lot C of Tract 618 to be used as a public alley. Referred to city attorney.

The manager of the electric light department reported that the Pacific Telephone & Telephone Co. will place their fourth street lines under ground provided the poles along said street are removed. Referred to public works committee in conjunction with manager of electric light department. The city attorney presented certificates of title for Lot 31, Block 10, town of Glendale, a portion of city hall site together with bill from Title Guarantee & Trust Co. for $5.80.

City attorney reported that he had prepared a deed for property sold for non-payment of street improvements, costs and that same would be read and a resolution passed authorizing the same. Received and laid over. He also reported deed to Lot C, Tract 618 was regular and properly acknowledged. Report received and deed accepted. City clerk instructed to have same placed on record.

A petition was received from Chas. Grossman and others requesting Ninth street east of Glendale be repaired. Referred to street superintendent and public works committee. It was ordered that bids for a motorcycle for city marshal be opened and declared. The only bid received was that of the Los Angeles Motorcycle Co. for $355. Referred to finance committee which recommended its rejection and that was adopted. An ordinance declaring intention to widen Brand boulevard between Sixth street and south line of Gridler & Hamilton tract, passed first and second reading. A resolution by Trustee Watson was adopted, declaring intention to abandon an alley extending from Second to Third streets, in block 7. The clerk was instructed to notify the grammar school trustees that a deed to the city as set forth in their communication of August 14 will be required.

Matter of inspection of gas meters referred to city attorney. Mr. Tuttle presented complete plans and specifications for proposed city hall. Referred to public works committee in conjunction with building inspector to report at next meeting.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting at Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening. The various committees reported progress. The committee on the preparation of literature for distribution setting forth the attractions of Glendale reported progress and asked for suggestions. Mr. A. B. Heacock, the chairman, will be glad to hear from anyone interested in regard to the matter. A suggestion was made by Dr. Hurtt as to the desirability of having a room for the Chamber exhibit and for meetings in the new municipal building soon to be erected, and a committee was appointed to look into the matter. The by-laws were amended so as to have the regular meetings hereafter held on Friday instead of Tuesday evenings, and when the meeting adjourned it was to meet on Friday evening, Sept. 8.

CRUELTY TO AN ANIMAL.

A young man from Eagle Rock hired a horse of the Central Stables last Sunday, and did not return when night came. Monday morning at 4 o'clock, Officer Everett found the animal hitched to a pole on Glendale avenue. After quite a search the culprit was found, brought before 1st order Whomes, and fined $20, with good, wholesome lecture thrown in.

VALLEY VIEW IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

This association will hold its regular meeting tonight (Friday) at the usual place, tent, corner of Sixth and Columbus, at 8 o'clock. Important matters are to be discussed. Mr. Frederick O'Brien and Mr. J. C. Sherer are to speak.

A bad half dollar, bearing date of 1894, is in circulation. It rings well, but compared with a genuine coin shows the roughness of the mold in which it was cast.

OWENS RIVER VALLEY

The Wonders of Inyo County—Los Angeles County Editors Get Acquainted with a Section Rapidly Coming to the Front

THE OWENS RIVER VALLEY.

The acquisition of water rights in the Owens River Valley by the city of Los Angeles and the construction of the great aqueduct to bring water from the Owens river to the city 260 miles below, drew attention to a much neglected portion of California. Inyo county has a population of about 7000 people, which in view of the fact that it is the second largest county in the state, having an area of over ten thousand square miles, is not much. It is the proud boast of its people that Inyo county contains the highest and the lowest land in the United States, Mt. Whitney (14,502 feet) and Death Valley (said to be 300 feet below sea level).

When the Owens river water project was broached there was no railroad in the valley except the old narrow gauge road running through the valley from Nevada down to Keeler on the east side of Owens Lake. This road was built a number of years ago for the purpose of tapping the rich mining district in the neighborhood of the Cerro Gordo mines near Keeler. When the building of the great aqueduct to convey water from the valley to Los Angeles was decided upon, the Southern Pacific began the construction of a broad gauge road northward and with commendable enterprise quickly constructed over a difficult route the 144 miles of road now running from Mojave (100 miles from Los Angeles) to Owens. This point is ten miles north of Owens Lake and there connection is made with the narrow gauge road. All the towns of any consequence in the valley at the present time are north of the lake and near the base of the high mountain range on the west side; a range where the main ridge for miles reaches the elevation of 14,000 feet and where Mt. Whitney aspiring upward to a point in the atmosphere 14,502 feet above the sea, is not lone some enough to be conspicuous, although the highest point of land in the state.

WRIGHT THE TAILOR.

553 West Fourth St., does Cleaning, Dyeing and Repairing in first-class attire.
The railroad, as railroads usually do, follows the dry undeveloped side of the valley, leaving the cultivated fields, orchards and homes of the people anywhere from two to four miles to the westward.

INVASION OF EDITORS.

A party of twenty editors of weekly papers in Los Angeles county accompanied by a representative of the Southern Pacific railroad and one or two gentlemen connected with other publications in Los Angeles, left Los Angeles Sunday morning the 13th bound for the Owens river country. They reached Owens, 244 miles north about 8 p. m. This place is at the base of Mt. Whitney which raises its saw-tooth peaks into the heavens westward. The only evidences of civilization visible in the neighborhood of Owens is the railroad and what it brings; the latter includes a string of box cars in which are located railroad offices, express, telegraph and telephone offices and the "Owens hotel." The latter will doubtless move on with the railroad whenever that great transportation medium concludes to pack up and proceed, which will be a happy day for the people of the valley who just now are hampered for lack of better accommodations for travel and transportation. This does not indicate a spirit of ungratefulness however, for the 144 miles of road, already constructed span a stretch of desert which acted as a barrier between the outside world and the valley; but it does mean that with an ambition to get the best there is the people will gladly welcome the day when their products can be put on the cars and go through to Los Angeles without the delay and expense of reloading.

The members of the party spent a more or less pleasurable night at the "Hotel de Box Car," as this resort is locally known, and at 9 o'clock the next morning boarded a "mixed train" on the narrow gauge road bound for Bishop.

THE AQUEDUCT.

The Owens river wriggles through the valley in a tortuous course and at a point where it is probably twenty feet wide and just now about three feet deep, thirty-five miles or so north of the lake, the river is tapped by the Los Angeles aqueduct which has here its "intake." Work is just beginning on the intake dam which will be constructed so as to turn all or a portion of the stream into the aqueduct as circumstances may render it desirable. At the intake we found Mr. Van Norman in charge of the work, a young man said to be well fitted by nature and training for the responsible job. The visitors were unable to see much of the aqueduct work, but there are a great many miles of open work and cement lining yet to be completed; work which can of course be rushed as much as desired when the more difficult parts of the enterprise are ready. Passing through Antelope valley, the aqueduct is many miles to the westward as it goes through the Elizabeth Lake country; as the traveler gets into the neighborhood of Mojave he sees the line of the canal high up on the hills.

One point in the valley we crossed the canal and alighted to examine it. It is a V-shaped ditch, probably fifteen feet wide on top and two feet wide at bottom with sides sloping at an angle of 45 degrees downward for ten feet. In appearance it is certainly a fine piece of work, but the suggestion that it would not down as the scribes viewed it—will it not be a splendid trap in which to catch rabbits, coyotes and the desert creatures generally? Ultimately it is planned to cover it, but necessarily it will be left open for a long time after the job is otherwise "completed." We did not learn as to the extent of this "open ditch," but in the beginning of its usefulness it will no doubt constitute the big majority of the length of the system.

The traveler hears stories to the effect that the work is being "slighted," "skimped," etc., but as this is unreasonable on the surface visitors take but little stock in it. The editors were willing to "be shown" but were not.

QUALITY OF THE WATER.

The residents do not drink the Owens river water; they do not need to, as they tap on the way down to its channel the innumerable streams that flow down ice cold and pure from the melting snow. At the time of the first agitation over the subject one of the local publications in referring to the river water asserted that during the winter when it is catching the drainage of the hills the water "runs red." Where we saw and sampled it at the intake it merely ran muddy and had the taste of ordinary wet water. To speak of it as "mountain water" is somewhat delusive. It is valley water and river water when caught by the aqueduct. What its peculiar properties are as a beverage, can only be determined by a chemist. The river certainly does drain out of the most highly mineralized comes on the globe. The valley has mixed in it alkali, soda, salt and a lot of other things and in the mountains are gold, silver, lead, copper and the whole list of minerals valuable and otherwise.

RESERVOIRS AND POWER.

At Halwee, ten miles or so below Owens Lake, is to be constructed a dam 1500 feet long across the canon, that will back the water up for a distance of seven miles. The purpose of this is to act as a "settling basin," into which the water will flow, the sediment sinking to the bottom and not entering the canal. There will be other similar basins, one at Ellsabeth Lake and another in the San Fernando valley. At these points also will be located the great power plants that will furnish power enough to turn all the machinery in Los Angeles county at the present time.

AT BISHOP.

At a station called Laws on the narrow gauge road the editorial party was met by a committee and conveyed by automobiles to Bishop three or four miles west. Editor Jones, president of the Southern California Editorial Association; Mr. G. B. Morgridge, Secretary Randall of the County Association, and two or three other shining lights were in the leading machine and why their auto stalled so that it had to be hauled up the main street of Bishop by a pair of mules while the other members of the party waited at the hotel to receive them with open arms, is another story. Bishop has an elevation of a little over four thousand feet and is the largest town in the valley although Independence is the oldest and is the county seat. It is in the midst of a beautiful and prosperous farming section, with fields of wheat, oats, barley, corn and alfalfa on every side. Great stacks of alfalfa and wheat, herds of cattle, sheep, hogs and horses give evidence of fertility and prosperity. The town has a population of 1200 and forty automobiles. If the farmers in that section ever work hard, they paid the visitors a delicate compliment by desisting from labor while they were present. The place has two wide-awake newspapers and many other things that make life worth while.

Three meals and a banquet were features of the first day there and another was an auto ride up to the power plant of the Nevada-California Power Co., a thousand feet higher up at the base of the mountain where Bishop Creek rushes down from the mountain gorge and turns the turbines and dynamos which furnish 10,000 horsepower that serves Bishop with electricity, and then passing over the mountains eastward for 130 miles gives light and power to Goldfields, Tonopah and other Nevada mining camps. This is the same concern which has just contracted to furnish electricity to San Bernardino, 200 miles distant. The superintendent upon being asked how many horse power they expected to deliver in the southern cities, replied, "That just depends upon how much they can use."

ROUND VALLEY.

On the second day of their stay in this vicinity the visitors were entertained at Round Valley about 12 miles from Bishop, up at the base of the mountains. The place of entertainment was a small grove of walnut, alder and cottonwood trees carpeted by a crop of alfalfa and in the pleasant shade was spread a feast fit for the gods and properly enjoyed by the visiting mortals. Evidently the most of the people of the valley had turned out and the affair was marked by a genuine old fashioned spirit of hospitality which was inspiring. In this section are to be found many men and women who came into the valley in the first days of its settlement during the 60's. They had to fight for what they got in those days, for the Plutes, now their valued helpers, were their deadly foes, and the obstacles interposed by nature were serious ones, but they persevered and in their broad fertile acres and prosperous homes they are reaping their reward.

DOWN THE VALLEY BY AUTO.

Wednesday morning the party left by autos for Lone Pine, sixty miles down the valley and traveling in this manner were able to see close at hand the improved portions of the valley. Dinner was spread at Big Pine, 16 miles south of Bishop, another hospitable and generous entertainment served by the ladies of that delightful and enterprising place which with its natural advantages is destined to be heard from in the near future. The dinner there was presided over by Mr. Fred Eaton, the father of the aqueduct, and when we left it was to stop two or three miles further down at his chicken ranch, where he has eighty acres devoted to White Leghorn chickens. At present he has only 12,000 laying hens. This will be increased to three times that number in a few weeks and ultimately he expects to have 100,000 chickens on the place, which is ideal in all its equipment and bears evidence of being fitted up regardless of expense.

Proceeding southward past fertile well-watered fields and an occasional orchard planted years ago and well laden with fruit (apples usually) independence was reached in the middle of the afternoon, the oldest settlement in the valley. Here at "Fort Independence" during the civil war and the Indian troubles, there were U. S. troops stationed, the old fort now gone to decay. Being the county seat independence keeps to some extent in the public eye, but has not yet begun to move with much rapidity. Lone Pine where the night was spent, is also a place of much natural attractiveness, but has not done much in the way of development. It is at the base of Mt. Whitney and is an outfitting place for tourists who wish to explore the heights of the Sierras.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, the members of the Los Angeles County Press Association are about to start homeward after a three days' most enjoyable visit with the people of Owens River Valley, during which time we have accumulated information that will be of inestimable value to us hereafter, as members of the newspaper fraternity, in dealing with questions connected with the development of Southern California; therefore,

Be it resolved, that the heartfelt thanks of the association represented by the members here present are due to and hereby tendered to the people of this section, who have received and treated us with unstinted hospitality during our stay in this, one of the most interesting and attractive portions of our state. To the people of the city of Bishop, and particularly to the public-spirited citizens who have especially contributed to our entertainment, and to the members of the committees who have devoted to us the most of their time during our stay, we express hereby the fullest measure of appreciation. The fame of the hospitality of the people of Round Valley, and the skill of the ladies of that rich and beautiful section in preparing food in a manner fit for gods and mortals, had reached the ears of the editors before they had an opportunity to test its foundation, and having been fortunate enough to have the opportunity of doing this, they heartily testify to the effect that this reputation has been most satisfactorily established after a test of great thoroughness.

This association has had the pleasure of enjoying the hospitality of the people of Big Pine, where, in addition to the generous entertainment given us by the ladies of that place, we also had the opportunity of acquiring much information and of making the acquaintance of the people of that section. Resolved, therefore, that thanks are tendered hereby to the people of Big Pine, and particularly to the committee having the matter in charge, for the pleasure of a day that shall not be forgotten.

For courtesies received at the hands of the citizens of Independence, Manzanare and Lone Pine, we also express hearty appreciation. The members of the association have been the recipients of so much kindness at the hands of the people of Inyo County during the few days of their stay that it is impracticable to thank them by name; but to one and all of them we express our sincere appreciation of their efforts to make pleasant our never-to-be-forgotten visit—efforts that were crowned with perfect success.

Finally, be it resolved, that the newspapers represented by this association will earnestly endeavor from this time forward to truthfully present to the people of the sections represented by these publications the exact facts in regard to the Owens River Valley; its natural resources and attractions, and the high character of its people; and endeavor to promote the common interests of the people of Los Angeles County and of the dwellers in this favored section of the state, now rapidly coming to the front in the onward march of progress, and entering upon an era of marvelous development.

BODY OF MAN IDENTIFIED.

After extensive telegraphing it has been ascertained that the man who committed suicide in Stough's canyon near Burbank, and whose body was found by hunters about the middle of last week, is Ernest Greenshaw of Portland, Maine. The exchange of messages was started by C. O. Pulliam of the Pulliam Undertaking company of this city, who first wired Frank M. Lowe & Co., of the eastern city, whose name and address was upon the small key-ring check found in Greenshaw's pocket. The company's return message stated that the key-ring had been given to Ernest Greenshaw about eight years ago.

The Lowe company then notified Leslie Greenshaw, brother of the dead man, who still is a resident of Portland, and who wired the Pulliam company as follows:

"If body which you wired Lowe about has following identification marks, answer at my expense: One leg broken above knee some years ago causing slight crook, gold capped tooth upper jaw; about five feet nine inches tall and slight of stature; brown hair, No. 7 shoe."

Mr. Pulliam's message read as follows: "Body shows fracture of left leg just below knee, making bone slightly crooked. Has first molar upper jaw gold capped. About 5 feet 9 inches tall and slight. Strained brown hair. Wore No. 7 or 7 1/2 shoe at time of death."

After messages were exchanged later which prove without a doubt that the identification is correct and it is possible that the body will be shipped East sometime this week. Mr. Pulliam stated this week that this was evidently a case of suicide. The large caliber revolver was found beneath the right hip in the exact place where the man had fallen upon it after firing the shot. A small pocket mirror was found about three feet to the left of the body and it was evident that as the shot was fired the man had been looking into the mirror and had dropped it from his hand as he fell. The bullet entered the right temple, crashing through the skull and coming out just behind the right temple. That death was instantaneous is certain because there was no evidence of any kind of a struggle.

NEW CITY HALL.

The final plans for the new city hall have been approved and it is probable that advertisement for bids on the contract for its construction will be advertised next week. The building will be of blue brick on a concrete foundation. There will be a raise of two or three steps to the front door which will be double and of plate glass. To the left of the hall on entering will be the office of the lighting department, and back of it the offices of treasurer and assessor. On the right will be the quarters of the engineer and the building inspector. A broad stairway will lead to the second floor where will be found the offices of the city clerk and the recorder on the left, while on the right will be a committee room and the council chamber, the latter 22 ft. 9 in. by 31 ft. 2 inches in dimensions. The cost of building is limited to $7500.

GLENDALF, CAL., AUGUST 25, 1911

We heartily agree with our contemporary, the Tropico Interurban Sentinel, that an interpretation of the law which says it is all right to kill a dog, but cruelty to shoot him more than once, is a "strained quality of justice." Go to it, Brother Burch.

The Marquis of Queensbury is going to be a regular contributor to the pink sheet of a Los Angeles daily. This paper expects in a short time to make a similar arrangement with the Akkond of Gooseberry. Advertisers please take notice!

Curious, is it not, that some people who think President Taft was wrong in taking Mr. Ryan's advice in the Controller Bay matter (if he did) are capable of thinking that Theodore Roosevelt was right in breaking the law when advised to do so by certain steel magnates?

As indicative of the growth and extent of the automobile business, it is stated that the Packard Co. of Detroit have $14,000,000 worth of orders ahead for 1912. The monster plant employs seven thousand men and buildings are being erected to give the concern three times its present capacity.

Our account of the trip to Bishop would be incomplete without mention of Mr. W. C. Parcher, former editor of the Hollywood Citizen, who went up into that country for his health some time ago, and found a good measure of it. The association owes its thanks to Mr. Parcher in particular for being the cause of the invitation being given by the good people of Bishop, and for his constant efforts made while the party was there to give them pleasure.

The Rev. Richmond, of Philadelphia, struck a popular chord and a great evil at the same time when he denounced the Astor-Force proposed wedding. But his criticism from the pulpit of the President of the United States, in regard to matters purely political, shows him to be a seeker after notoriety, who, if encouraged, will turn out to be merely a common scold.

CHANGE IN THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Mr. W. A. Anderson retires from the board of trustees of the city of Glendale after several years of good service and is succeeded by Mr. Geo. E. Williams, a well-known business man who will no doubt "make good" in that arduous position. Mr. Anderson deserves the thanks of the community for a very large portion of his time given to the city without reward for the past three years, and Mr. Williams has the good wishes of our people in stepping into the breach.

INTERESTING POINTERS.

During the trip homeward of the members of the Los Angeles Weekly Press Association from a visit to Owens Valley last week, straw votes were taken on a number of questions of public interest.

The following are the results in some of this balloting:

Woman Suffrage—In favor, 5; opposed 12.

Taft for President—In favor 5; opposed 12.

LaFollette for President—In favor 10; opposed 7.

Recall of Judges—In favor 12; opposed 5.

NOT YET IN A HOLE.

President Taft has vetoed the bill to admit Arizona into the sisterhood of states with a constitution providing for the recall of judges. He could have taken no other course consistently, and Mr. Taft is always consistent. Assuming that the people of Arizona really want the power to recall judges, there existed no necessity for putting that provision in their constitution. It is a matter that they can very easily take up and decide after becoming a state. But it is a rash assumption to suppose that they want such a provision in their organic law; they did not instruct their delegates to the constitutional convention to put that provision in the instrument and it has never, therefore, been put up to the people for their decision. Arizona now, under the compromise bill, comes into the Union as a state, just as soon as the people vote to accept the President's terms, which they will no doubt do. And the President is not yet "in a hole."

SHALL WE GO IN?

Shall Glendale, Tropico and vicinity become a part of Los Angeles?

Ultimately, yes.

Must we go in now?

Not if our people are in full possession of their mental faculties, and we believe they are.

What would we get by joining the larger city now?

We would get left; ask Wilmington.

We would get a share of bonded indebtedness, amounting to $100 per capita.

We would get taxed to support a police force which is now and always inadequate to cover the territory that needs protection.

We would be taxed for parks which would remain where they now are, and which we would get no more benefit from than now.

We would be taxed for a sewer system which is inadequate for present demands upon it.

We would be taxed for water which we do not need, and which we could not get without a large expenditure of money.

We would be taxed for the general expenses of a government in which we would practically have no part. And then we would be taxed again!

We cannot escape taxation as it is, nor do we want to; it's a habit; but one does like to know where his money goes. The citizen of a comparatively small municipality can at least have that satisfaction. And he can get things done; if there's a hole in the street in front of his home, he can get it mended within reasonable time. If he wants an electric light pole moved, he can have it attended to before it falls down from old age. If he wants an electric light connection, he can get it made while he still has a few years left in which to enjoy the light. If there is a piece of engineering to be done in the spring of the year, to enable him to subdivide his property, he can get it attended to by the city officials before the current year's almanac has become a back number. In brief, we can have, under a municipality such as we have at present, or such as it will be when it doubles its area, that thing which the Irish have fought for for many years and are seen to get—home rule!

Yes, ultimately we will probably become a part of Los Angeles; but when that becomes a living issue we will have something to say about terms—again assuming that our mental faculties remain unimpaired. To become a part of that city at present would necessitate our going in on terms of unconditional surrender; we would be absorbed, body, bones and unmentionables. And we would be expected to consent to the absorption and continue to look pleasant. The great argument in favor of annexation to Los Angeles is the Owens River water. Assuming that the water will be fit to drink, what do we want to drink it for? Are not the waters of Verdugo Canyon, welling up from the laboratory of Nature a scant two miles above us and flowing uncontaminated to our doors, better than all the water of the Owens River, though it be flavored with every mineral known to the chemist? But, say the annexationists, we have an unsatisfactory water service! As long as the service is unsatisfactory because of other reasons than a lack of water back of it, this is not irremediable. And this leads up to the real need of the community—a stronger association of the people of this section, united in one municipal body for the benefit and protection of all. We have now two little "cities" and three or four sections divided by local names, every one pulling in its own ineffectual way for practically the same thing, but pulling in different directions! There is a general agreement that some time we shall be a part of the great city that is next to us; but before that time comes, let us, like reasonable human beings, alive to our common interests, get together and be able to at least have something to say about the terms upon which we enter the partnership.

Editor the NEWS:

Dear Sir: Having, through the public press, learned that the school children of America are calling for a new anthem—something that is patriotic, but without the ring of war, and set to inspiring music which can be attained by youthful voices, I offer the enclosed lines, and which I have set to original music, and will donate the copyright to same to the California state association which shall first agree to publish and distribute the first edition free to the respective state school boards of our land.

Yours very respectfully,

JULIA S. NICHOLS.

OUR ANTHEM.

From where thy shores imbibe the kiss of morning
To where they smile down the sunset sea,
Of hill and plain, of mountain crest and valley,
My heart would sing America, of thee;
Sing of the day when Progress, seeking shelter,
Groping for clasp of Liberty's fair hand,
And of the day when Freedom, crowned with glory,
Made Progress queen of Liberty's own land.

Chorus: America, thou happy land of freedom,
From thy fair shores my heart shall never roam.
But high aloft I'll wave thy starry banner,
And sing thy praise, my native land, my home.

As from thy store of health and wealth and beauty
Our nation strong has grown, to call thee great,
Thy world of souls bound in fraternal union
That makes for joy, prosperity and state;
So let each heart that beats for loyal duty
Proclaim for truth, for justice and for peace,
For human rights, the crown of God's creation,
And live for grace, that wisdom may increase.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT

JEANNETTE L. GILDER, EDITOR
OF THE CRITIC, GIVES SOUND
REASONS FOR OPPOSITION
(By Jeannette L. Gilder, editor of the Critic)

It has been quite a shock to people who do not know me, but who thought they did, to find me opposed to woman suffrage. Because I have been for so many years a working woman, and because the profession I chose in life was at the time I entered it, supposed to be entirely a man's profession, they thought I wanted all the privileges of men. But I don't. You could have counted the women journalists on the fingers of one hand at the time I entered the ranks. Nowadays you could not find fingers enough in a regiment to count them on. There are now certain branches of journalistic work that are almost entirely given over to women, and women not only edit mere departments of daily papers, but there are those who edit the Sunday editions of some of the biggest dailies.

I am a great believer in the mental equality of the sexes, but I deny the physical equality. I believe in putting men's work and women's work of the same kind side by side, and judging them not as sex work, but simply as work. To have a "Woman's Building" at the World's Fair did not seem to me a compliment to the sex, but I believe some good reasons were advanced for it. Even some of its staunchest advocates, however, doubt if there will ever be such another building at such another show. I do not believe in sex in literature or art. Every book should be compared with all other books of its kind, and not with every picture, statue, or musical composition. There are few trades or professions that I do not think women fairly well equipped for, or capable of being prepared for. I cannot say that I quite like the idea of a woman preacher, but that may be a mere prejudice; nor do I think that I would retain a woman lawyer. But this is neither here nor there.

In politics I do not think that women have any place. The life is too public, too wearing, and too unfitted to the nature of women. It is bad enough for men—so bad, that some of the best of them keep out of it; and it would be worse for women. Many of the women who are enthusiastic in the cause of suffrage seem to think that if they are once given the power to vote, every vexed question will be settled, every wrong righted. By dropping their ballots in the box they believe that they can set in motion the machinery of an earthly paradise. I wish I could think so. It is my opinion that I would let loose the wheels of purgatory. If the ballot were the end, that would be one thing, but it is only the beginning. If women vote they must hold office, they must attend primaries, they must sit on juries. We shall have women "heelers" and women "bosses"; there will be the "girls" of the Fourth ward (when it comes to New York) as well as the "boys."

What will become of home life, I should like to know, if the mother and the father both are at the "primary" or at the convention? Who will look after the children? Hired mothers? But can every woman with political ambitions afford to pay for a "rest" or a "visiting" mother? And even if she can, will such a one take the place of the real mother? I think not. Cannot a woman find a sufficient engrossing "sphere" in the very important work of training her children? If there are sons among them, she can mould them into good citizens; if there are any daughters, she can guide their footsteps along any path they may choose, for all paths but the political are open to them. I do not think that to be a good housewife should be the end and aim of every woman's ambition, but I do think that it should be some part of it; for I am old-fashioned enough to be a strong believer in the influence of a mother's training upon her children. Read the life of any great man, and you will see how much of his greatness is owed to his mother. It seems to me that it is a bigger feather in a woman's cap—a brighter jewel in her crown—to be the mother of a George Washington than to be a member of congress from the Thirty-second district.

From the day Adam and Eve were created to the present year of grace men and women have been different in all important respects. They were made to fill different roles. It was intended by nature that men should work, and that women should share in the disposition and enjoyment of the fruits of their labor. Circumstances alter cases, and women are often—alas, too often—driven out into the world to make their own way. Would they find it any easier if they had the ballot? Do men find it so easy to get work? If they do, why are there so many thousands of the clamoring unemployed?

It is said that the laws are unfair to women. Then call the attention of the law-makers to the fact, and see how soon they will be amended. I think that men want to be fair to women, and a petition will work wonders with a congressman. Will women always be fair to women? That is a serious question. They may on some points, but the question of chivalry never comes into consideration between women. It does between men and women, and the latter profit by it.

I speak from experience when I say that I don't see how women can cultivate home life and enter the political arena. Circumstances forced me to go out into the world to earn my own bread and a part of that of others. When my mother was living, she made the home, and all went well. But after that, after marriages and deaths, a family of four small children came to me for a home. I don't mean for support, for they had a father living, but for a home. I had to take as far as possible, the place of my sister, their mother. To do my duty by them and by my work was the most difficult task I ever undertook. I had to go to my office every day and leave them in the care of others. Sometimes the plan worked well, but oftener it worked ill—very ill indeed. I had seven people doing, or attempting to do, what I and two others could have done had I been able to be at home and look after things myself. Suppose that politics had been added to my other cares? Suppose that I had had meetings to attend and candidates to elect, perhaps to be elected myself? What would have been the result? Even dire disaster! We can not worship God and Mammon; neither can we be politicians and women. It is against nature, against reason. Give woman everything she wants, but not the ballot. Open every field of learning, every avenue of industry to her, but keep her out of politics. The ballot cannot help her, but it can hurt her. She thinks it a simple piece of paper, but it is a bomb—one that may go off in her own hands, and work a mischief that she little dreams of.

A GLENDALE LADY IN THE DESERT.

When the train conveying the members of the editorial association from Owens valley homeward on Thursday of last week stopped at Browns Station for dinner, the editor of the NEWS was pleased to meet Mrs. Johanna Edwards who went up into that country last March to settle on a government claim five miles from that place. Mrs. Edwards had ridden up to the station on horseback in order to "meet some one from home." The air of the desert undoubtedly agrees with the lady who is a picture of health, in contrast with her condition when she left here. Mrs. Edwards and her son Clarence together have 320 acres and have plenty of water for present purposes furnished by a well 35 feet deep, the water being lifted by wind power.

THE WEATHER.

THE COMING TOURNAMENT.

Interest in the coming tennis tournament is growing apace, and many new players have signified their intention to play.

The Misses May and Eleanor Richards, who figured prominently in the tournament last year, will participate this year, and have charge of the social arrangements.

The Country Club will join in a band ball to be given in honor of the tennis players and members of the club, which promises to be a very pleasant affair.

Entries may be mailed or phoned to Miss Eleanor Richards, Glendale, one 542 J, or Nat Browne, Casa Verdugo, phone Glendale 501, or to T. E. Stanton, Casa Verdugo, phone 301 R.

An entrance fee of one dollar for each person in each event will be charged contestants. Those desiring to enter will kindly send in their names at once. Junior players are especially urged to participate, as it is the desire of the committee to have the younger players become more interested in the game through tournament play. This event will be open to any players under eighteen years of age.

As previously announced, the dates will be September 2, afternoon, and September 4 and 5.

Mr. George Engleheart, an old-timer of this section, is spending a week with Mr. J. B. Verdugo in Verdugo Canyon. He called on the editor of the NEWS on Wednesday to indulge in reminiscences of old times when he was a political power and swung the solid vote of his section. He has been for seventeen years past in the office of the collector of the port at San Pedro.

Correspondence

Mr. Editor: We note with much interest the interpretation of the "Iola case," and read the remarks of the judge to his critics, that there was another side to the case, that the victims of this dissolute woman were still languishing in jail. In our opinion, there is still another side to be shown, for we see this bad, designing woman, once the sweet, innocent daughter of a fond mother, free and happy as a girlhood usually is, but perhaps through the misfortune of poverty she was obliged to go out into the world to earn her own support, and fell a victim to the damnable betrayer of innocent girls. Will working in the chain gang help this dissolute woman and point her to a better and purer life? Is there no pity or hope for this victim of soul-destroying environment, and is she a greater curse to society than her betrayers, whom the world never stops to condemn, but only seeks to slay their poor, helpless victims?

BURBANK—"HIS HOUSE IN ORDER"

Margaret Illington and the Burbank stock company will this week play Pinero's comedy, "His House in Order," with Miss Illington in the role of Nina Jesson, the second wife of a member of parliament, which she created when John Drew initially presented the piece in this country.

Pinero, admittedly the cleverest, brightest and by all odds most successful of all English dramatists, is seen in his happiest vein of dramaturgy in "His House in Order," and in fashioning the role of Nina he has added a distinctly fine personage to the list of stage heroines.

Miss Illington will have the support of Byron Beasley, who will be seen in Drew's original role of the brother-in-law, while Frank Camp should find the part of the husband an attractive opportunity for some of his best work.

Finally the guests were led away to where an immense yellow and white cake, having the name of the hostess, formed the centerpiece of a well-laden table, where the refreshments carried out the color scheme. While all regaled themselves, eighteen candles, representing eighteen good wishes for the owner of the cake, burned merrily away.

The eighteen guests who thoroughly enjoyed the evening were: Miss Helen Jordan, Miss Helen Robinson, Miss Mabel Evans, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, Miss Emma Pulliam, Miss Luta McCoy, Miss Berenice Williams, Miss Emily Elias, Miss Pearl Goode, Mr. Dwight Stephenson, Mr. Owen Emery, Mr. Nelson Frazer, Mr. Gus Pulliam, Mr. Granville McClure, Mr. Louisa Lenore, Mr. George Mitchell, Mr. Fay Stone and Mr. Leo Goode.

On Monday afternoon the monthly gathering of the Maids and Matrons of the Glendale Country Club was held in the club's receiving rooms, which were most charming and invitingly cool in their decorations of yellow and green.

The afternoon was enjoyed at the card tables, where five hundred and bridge occupied the attention. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Bancroft was announced as the recipient of the head prize for bridge, and Miss Cutler for five hundred, both of whom were delighted when they received handsome prizes of cut glass.

Refreshments were served at tables which carried out the color scheme of the day.

The unqualified success of the afternoon was due to Mrs. C. M. Turk, who presided as hostess of the occasion.

The next "third Monday" meeting will be given by Mrs. T. W. T. Richards, and will be called a "Southern afternoon."

TROPICO

A refreshment stand has been started at the corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard by Frank Crane.

Mrs. Ethel Reynolds of Central avenue, went to San Diego this week where she will pass several weeks with her grandmother.

There will be the regular services at the Methodist church of Tropico next Sunday. Rev. Botkin has returned from his vacation and will occupy the pulpit at both services.

Notices have been posted on the leading streets of this city to the effect that all those caught riding on the sidewalk upon bicycles or motor bikes will be fined ten dollars.

Mrs. C. D. Winebrenner of Park avenue is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Seward of Sausalito. Mr. and Mrs. Seward returned recently from Redondo, where they have been passing several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Retts of Fifty-fourth street, Los Angeles, enjoyed a pleasant visit at the home of Mrs. Retts' mother, Mrs. Marple, at 1261 Palmer avenue, this week.

Miss Blanche Davenport entertained a number of friends at her home on Glendale avenue Monday evening. The time was pleasantly passed in singing and conversation. During the evening refreshments were served.

Miss Bernice Snively of Berkeley is passing some time as the guest of Miss Blanche Davenport of Glendale avenue. Miss Snively and Miss Davenport were chums while attending Occidental college.

Miss Eulalia Richardson having completed a course at Stanford University, has been appointed to a position on the faculty of that institution. Mrs. E. W. Richardson, her mother, and family will move to Stanford to make it their home.

Rev. W. C. Botkin and wife returned Monday after enjoying a vacation trip of a month by the sea shore and at the mountains. Some time was passed at Huntington Beach and during the past week Mr. and Mrs. Botkin enjoyed the beauties and comforts of Camp Baldy, which is situated half way up Mt. Baldy.

Miss Lillian Elias will leave Tropico Saturday for the Stanford university, where she will enter upon her second year's work. Miss Molly Howe of Chicago, arrived in Tropico Wednesday and will accompany Miss Elias to the northern city. The two young ladies will chum together during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Seaman entertained at their home on Seventh street in honor of Miss Lillian Hancock of Hinsdale, Ill., Monday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with seasonal flowers and the evening was passed pleasantly in games and conversation. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ackley, Mr. and Mrs. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seaman and Miss Hancock.

A daintily appointed luncheon was given by Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., at her home on Tropico avenue yesterday afternoon complimentary to Miss Lillian Hancock of Hinsdale, Ill., who is passing several weeks with friends and relatives in Southern California. In addition to the guest of honor the invited guests were Mrs. Joseph Kirkby, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Oliver Merrill, Mrs. H. Clay Seaman, Jr., and Mrs. J. H. Seaman.

George Friedgen has sold a lot on Park avenue west of Brand boulevard to Mr. Killiam of Los Angeles, who will erect a six-room modern residence on the property in the early spring. The price paid for the piece was $1000. Other sales made on Park during the past week were two lots sold by J. R. Maxwell on the south side of the street between Central and Brand for $1200 per lot; also, John Kirkham sold his six-room bungalow on the north side of Park just west of Brand to a party in Casa Verdugo, the price stated being $3500.

The Tropico Interurban Sentinel tells us of some strange doings in the recorder's court at Tropico. A man owned a dog, which on account of his vicious nature, he wished to kill. Permission was given by the justice. After the man had killed the animal by shooting it through the head, he was arrested for cruelty to animals and was fined five dollars. The arrest was made by City Marshal Fishback and Judge Shuey did the rest. This is certainly handing out pre-digested justice. At the same time the officials of Tropico are allowing a pool room to run in Tropico, which the people voted out at the last election, and which the city officials licensed over the heads of the people and against their wishes.

WEDDING AT TROPICO CHURCH.

A pretty wedding occurred at the Methodist church of Tropico Thursday evening when Miss Jennie Pauline Angel and Harry Edward Dotson, both of Los Angeles, were united in marriage. Miss Elsie Angel was maid of honor and Harry Angel was best man, both of the young people being members of the bride's family. The ring ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. C. Botkin, pastor of the church, was unusually impressive. Miss Genevieve Hensel was pretty as flower girl. The ushers were Misses Adelaide Bicheno, Margerete Bicheno, Gertrude Hensel and May Swartout. Promptly at 8:30 the bridal party entered and marched slowly down the aisle which was bordered with white satin ribbon and asparagus fern. As the ceremony was being performed the bride and groom stood beneath a pergola of pepper boughs and white ribbon and white crepe. During the entrance of the bridal party the Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Cox and the party was leaving the church the Mendelssohn wedding march was played.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was tendered to the relatives of the bride and groom and the bridal party at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Botkin on Central avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Dotson will leave shortly for Iowa, where they will visit for several weeks with Mr. Dotson's family. It is very probable that they will remain in Iowa permanently. The many friends of the young couple at this place wish them every happiness in their new life and hope that the future holds much success for them.

WEST GLENDALE

The family of J. W. Everett are entertaining Miss Ethel Harlock of Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. J. O. Elliott and family find the cool breezes of Redondo so inviting that they are to remain during this week.

A substantial house is being erected on the corner of First and Maryland by Mr. F. W. Pigg, the structure to cost about $4000.

Mrs. Potts of Bakersfield is the guest of Dr. H. C. King and family, corner Ruth and Remington. Mrs. Potts is to remain about two weeks.

Mr. Wilkinson now resident at Salem and Central, is erecting a new five-room house of the chalet type on the corner of Myrtle and Remington. Mr. Wilkinson is to occupy it as a home.

Mr. C. W. Bartow is expecting his father and brother on Thursday of this week. They come from New York City and plan to locate in Southern California. At present Mr. Bartow is entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Bartow from Altadena.

Among the noticeable new structures is that built by the Commonwealth Home Builders near the corner of Remington and Myrtle. The building is of the low chalet type, has seven large rooms and disappearing beds. It is a study in grey and a relief from the darker stained houses about.

HAS RESPONDED TO THE LAST BUGLE CALL.

Death came into our midst last Sunday morning and called to rest William E. Yamell, at the ripe age of 72 years and 9 months. Mr. Yamell was born in Ohio. His early years were passed in his native state and Illinois, but when the call of his country came in 1861, he responded and gave five of the best years of his life in defense of the flag. He was with Gen. Grant at Vicksburg and was promoted for his efficiency and bravery to the rank of Lieutenant. When his regiment, the Twenty-third Illinois, was discharged, he remained yet one year on detached duty.

In 1867 he married Julia Mesplay in Lewiston, Ill. He came to Los Angeles with his family thirty-six years ago and followed to within a few years the business of contractor and builder. Mr. Yamell was an ardent Christian, a great student of the Bible, and an important factor in the upbuilding of the Seventh Day Adventist church in this community.

He is survived by his widow, three sons and three daughters. They are: B. F. Yamell, W. A. Yamell and H. C. Yamell of Los Angeles; Misses Mamie, Jessie and Sadie Yamell of Glendale. Miss Sadie is well known in West Glendale as a teacher in the West Glendale school.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at two o'clock in the afternoon at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors and interment was made in Forest Lawn cemetery. Services were very simply and impressively conducted by Elder Healy who was a life-long friend of Mr. Yamell. Elder Healy dwelt upon the height that our departed friend had run the race set before him, had "fought the good fight" and now certainly was in the enjoyment of the well-earned reward.

CASA VERDUGO

Miss Emma Steel is spending the week's end at Westgate.

Mr. and Mrs. England and family have gone to La Jolla where they will remain for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark have gone to Cold Brook camp for a stay of three weeks.

Mr. Madison B. Jones and family are at Hermosa for a month. Miss Ethel B. Land is visiting Ocean Park.

The Espesero Grocery store has been enlarged but still finds its quarters cramped for its rapidly growing business.

Mrs. Mary A. Ross of Central avenue has gone to Chicago for a visit and will probably remain away until November.

Mr. Frank Stadler returned home on the 16th accompanied by his bride. They will leave shortly for their ranch in Riverside county.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Webb of Valley View road, have for their guests this week their son, Dr. Webb and his little daughter.

Mrs. Arvin Robinson is enjoying a visit from her sister and the latter's husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuhn of Washington, Ind. Mrs. Clara Robinson is entertaining Miss Mary Mountain of Los Angeles.

The P. E. has a steam shovel at work in the wash between Central avenue and Brand boulevard, loading cars with sand for ballast on the Burbank extension. The latest date fixed for the completion of that road is Sept. 1st.

Miss Mary Brown (our own Mary) is traveling in the Puget Sound country with Miss May Sutton. Mary has won all the tennis games she has played up about Seattle and Tacoma except when pitted against the champion and is spoken of very highly in the papers of that section.

Henry and Carl Peterson and A. S. Priest went deer hunting Saturday last over the mountains towards La Crescenta and brought home a hundred and twenty pound buck which Harry brought down with his rifle. Harry Sohner and Mr. Faust were among the unsuccessful hunters.

Notices are posted announcing intention to improve streets in improvement District Number Four. The work is to be done on Central avenue from the north line of Fourth street to the south line of Kenneth road; Dryden street from Central to Brand; Stocker street from Central to Brand. The streets will be graded and all and a curb put in. Mr. T. E. Stanton will have charge of the work. An assessment district will be formed and bonds issued to run five years at 7 per cent interest. Hearing is set before the supervisors Sept. 19th at 10 a. m.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

A contract was given to Anderson & Murdoch for the building of an addition of one room to the Sixth Street school building, to cost $1240.
